WELCOME TO ST. JEROME’S UNIVERSITY!

At SJU we integrate our Catholic tradition with an ever-changing world and the demands of the future. Whatever your beliefs, you’re invited to join our inclusive community to pursue personal excellence, spiritual growth, and a passion for social justice.

Because we believe learning is deeper than your intellectual development, our goal is to inspire your imagination, engage your spirit, and cultivate the qualities essential for responsible citizenship, all while you earn your University of Waterloo degree.

Seeking unsurpassed leadership opportunities in and beyond the classroom? SJU is the place for you!

Keep an eye out for the SJU lion for insider tips!
Since 1865, St. Jerome’s University has proudly offered the best possible traditional Roman Catholic liberal arts education. Our agreement with the University of Waterloo, dating from 1960, shortly after Waterloo was established, means that we grant degrees through our world-renowned partner. Our 600 full- and part-time students regularly take courses at Waterloo but have opted for a more intimate overall experience, enjoying SJU’s smaller class sizes and comfortable community environment at the core of the large main campus.

Although it sounds too good to be true, there really is no catch! You can have the best of both worlds. When you enrol with St. Jerome’s, your degree is from the University of Waterloo, but you’ll benefit from our commitment to nurturing tomorrow’s leaders. When you study here, you’ll be supported by professors, staff, and classmates who share your values of academic excellence, social justice, love, and truth.

YOUR ARTS DEGREE – MARKETABLE MIND POWER

STRONG COMMUNICATION

My classes taught me how to communicate effectively in interpersonal relationships and team settings, while SJU offered me exciting extracurricular opportunities to apply those skills. Communication is key to success, and the combination of classroom learning and real-life experiences helped me both professionally and personally.”

Rachel, Honours Arts grad
Client Success Representative, Meltwater

ANALYTICAL REASONING

The profound difference between high school and university is that you’re challenged to understand your audience. You must be conscious of your own biases and theirs. It takes practice. You can read and write, but intellectually, you’ll become reflective, reading between the lines and grasping nuances.”

Jeffrey, Honours Arts grad
Law Student, University of Ottawa

LEADERSHIP

SJU gave me foundational leadership skills that I use every day – valuable people-management practice and unforgettable lessons about what it means to be a leader. The incredible role models who surrounded me personified leadership and inspired me to live up to their example. I would not be where I am today without my SJU experiences.”

Maria, Honours Arts grad
Program Manager, The New World Community

LIVING WITH PURPOSE

SJU nurtured my growth as a ‘whole’ person, and Medieval Studies taught me skills I use in my work, writing, and art. And it was my Human Sciences prof who encouraged me to think broadly about my notions of self and my world view. Now I try to do something every day that lines up with my beliefs in social justice, creativity, and living with purpose and intention.”

Faith, Honours Arts grad
Law Student, York University
Independent Writer, Social Entrepreneur, Filmmaker
Guelph 2015 Top 40 Under 40

CREATIVE THINKING

Seeing through the eyes of faculty, staff, and board members what was needed for success beyond university opened the doors for creative thinking, stepping out of the box, and most importantly, the ability to apply in the outside world the critical thinking skills I learned inside the classroom.”

Steven, Honours Arts grad
SME Account Executive, Vidyard

Your professors will guide you to study great books and then discuss, debate, and open your mind.
